

Shadows

New ambient album from Nilla Nielsen

A fairy of the forests, she shares her heart and whispers dreams to you....this collection of ambient and cinematic songs, are filled with beautiful melancholy and sometimes darker depths.

The songs on "Shadows" are written, recorded and produced by Nilla Nielsen except for the song "Sky Blue" which is a cover of Peter Gabriels brilliant soundtrack to the movie "Rabbit-Proof Fence". A song that has a very special place in Nilla's heart.

"I heard this beautiful song for the first time in Perth, Australia, when I went to see the fantastic film "Rabbit Proof Fence". The film and the music touched my heart deeply. Two years later, when I was hospitalized after the tsunami, struggling to survive severe infections, the song "Sky Blue" was my mantra. I played it over and over again in my mp3 player and somehow it's desolate and yearning sounds expressed and soothed my soul."

The title song "Shadows" together with more of Nilla's compositions is the soundtrack to the Greenpeace film "The Future is Here". The song "Sorry" was written for a short independent documentary about homeless, and "Spirit Sister" for an underwater film with freedivers and wild spinner dolphins. This is the third album from Nilla Nielsen and once again she is mesmerizing, showing new depths and colors as a composer, lyricist, musician, singer and producer.
